TUESDAY.....JULY 22

NEVADA.

Considerable feeling is manifested by Congressmen and Senators from Nevada over the press debate of the census revelations of the low numerical condition of the population of that State. It ought not cause the Representatives of the Silver State annoyance. What the census discloses was well known long ago. Nevada is in a transition state, from the era of mining excitement to the era of stable industries of a varied character. She has fallen off immensely, it is true, but her natural resources are even now superior to those of some other and older States. When water is married to her soil under irrigation systems for reclamation of arid lands she will have capacity for the support of millions, and that this union will be made is a certainty. Her mineral resources we do not believe have been exhausted, nor for the matter of that all discovered. Her climate is superior to that of the North Atlantic coast; she lies directly in the path of healthy development and the drift of population in its westward movement. That her plains will remain unproductive is absurd. The demand for their reclamation is but recent, but it is a demand that will as certainly have favorable action as any other that has been made for State development. She has given immense wealth to the nation, and when she shall have passed through the quiescent state of the present she will be productive of still greater wealth. Such processes as are going on in her case are not rapid, and with her contiguity to California, Oregon and other fertile States, they will be exceedingly slow. But the change must come. In the meantime she is a sovereign State of the Federal Union, and there is no method for her undoing as such, nor should there be any thought of it.—Sac. Record-Union.

COAST NEWS.

The snow-sheds on the Cascade division are being rebuilt and repaired.

A Sacramento Grand Jury promises to give the citizens a sensation in the shape of extensive water-works frauds.

M. A. Breadlove was mistaken for a man who had insulted the wife of James Hurlburt, at Portland, and received a dangerous knife wound at the hands of the latter.

It is feared that a young Canadian who has mysteriously disappeared from Chico has been murdered, and a ranch hand who was last with him is believed to have committed the crime.

Jame Doheny, a well-fixed and well-known contractor and builder was killed by his son, William Doheny, at Phoenix, A. T. Friday evening. There is intense excitement over the crime.

Two enterprising photographers who had boldly entered the Chinese quarters at Portland and were doing up the place by means of flashlights, were mobbed by the Chinese and compelled to beat a hasty retreat.

The striking Wellington coal miners are ordered to vacate their homes by Judge Harrison of the County Court of Nanaimo B. C. A monster parade of miners has been held in protest against the decision, which has caused much excitement.

B. Harris, whose store was destroyed by fire at Spokane Falls last January, has sued the city for reimbursement of his losses. He claims that the city failed to provide horses to haul the fire apparatus, and through the delay consequent upon that failure his property was destroyed.

The Portland Oregonian says: Fred Olsen, a boy of fifteen years, at the saw-mill at Porter, Coos county, was watching the furnace used for burning slabs when he fell from the platform, near the end of the slab conveyor, a distance of forty feet, and within six feet of the fire, where he was literally roasted by the heat. No one saw him fall but the probabilities are that he made a mis-step, and, falling, was stunned so that he could not crawl away from the fire and never regained consciousness.

However careful one may be in selecting meats it always remains with the butcher to allow them the opportunity. The late hard winter caused a rapid decline in fine beef and lambs but some Nevada cattlemen were fortunate enough to be well supplied for their own shops. M. C. Gardner Jr. is one of them and is prepared to allow his meats to be put to the test. j81w

It is a well known fact that a two year old steer is the most delicious eating in the meat line. M. C. Gardner Jr. can furnish steaks and roasts from an animal of that age at any time and guarantee that it is fresh. j81w
